KUALA LUMPUR: A total of 41 companies from various business segments were awarded with Ethical Business Excellence Awards 2010/11 by the Domestic Trade, Cooperatives and Consumerism Ministry today.

Its minister Datuk Seri Ismail Sabri Yaakob said the awards reflected the government's seriousness to encourage the private sector to embrace ethical business code and corporate governance in their relationship with customers, distributors, investors and the communities.

He said the awards were given in recognition of the private sector's effort in adopting these virtues as part of their practice and culture.

These companies were evaluated based on strict criteria such as fairness, honesty and integrity business conduct and separated into four categories; big corporations, medium, small and micro enterprises.

"The criteria is based on the organisation's commitment to operate in transparent manner, commitment to safety, health and welfare for staff and also complaint management," he said.

Ismail Sabri said the programme had attracted 55 entries, a marked improvement compared to only 38 entries in 2008.

He said the ministry would like to see 100 companies applying for the awards in the next two years.

Ismail Sabri said the ethical code would ensure consumers get the best services and returns from the corporate and private sectors.
